

Emergency Phone Numbers

Keep this list of telephone numbers near your phone so you know who to call for any situation.

Write Your Local Non-Emergency Number Here

Your local jurisdiction may have a non-emergency line for police, fire, or public works. This is for use when there is no immediate threat to life or safety.

Emergency Police - Fire - Ambulance

9-1-1

Call 9-1-1 only for emergencies that threaten life or property. This easy-to-remember number can be dialed from any phone, including cell phones.

Report Suspicious Activity

855-492-8244

We all play a role in helping secure our public spaces. If you see someone acting suspiciously, call 855-i-Watch-4. For crimes in progress, dial 9-1-1.

211 Texas / United Way Helpline

2-1-1

2-1-1 helps connect you with resources in your community. You can also call 2-1-1 to register for emergency transportation assistance through STEAR.

Houston Red Cross

866-526-8300

Your local Red Cross chapter provides emergency response services after disasters. They also offer first aid and CPR training and disaster preparedness classes.

Disaster Distress Helpline

800-985-5990

This national hotline provides crisis support to people experiencing distress from a natural or man-made disaster. You can also text Talk With Us to 66746.

Poison Control Center

800-222-1222

Experts from the poison control center can help you if someone has breathed, eaten, or touched chemicals, or taken the wrong medicine. You can also call 9-1-1.

Emergency Phone Numbers

Keep this list of telephone numbers near your phone so you know who to call for any situation.

Write Your Family's Contact Information Here

One of the steps in developing a family emergency plan is knowing how to contact each other. Write important phone numbers for each family member in this space.

Write Down Your Family Meeting Point Location

It's important for all family members to know where to meet in the event of an emergency inside your home. Use this space to record your meeting point.

Write Your Doctor's Phone Number Here

Keep the phone number for your doctor handy. He or she can provide advice on medical questions and guidance on your medical conditions.

Write Your Insurance Agent's Phone Number Here

Contacting your insurance agent after a disaster will help you get started on the process of filing claims. Also be sure to take pictures of damage, if it's safe to do so.